

Position Title: Director of Education

Position Summary

The Director of Education leads the strategic design, delivery, and continuous improvement of USA Archery's educational programs for coaches and other key stakeholders across the archery community. The Director ensures all educational offerings align with national best practices and industry standards, including the Quality Coaching Framework, the American Development Model, and current research in athlete-centered coaching, positive youth development, and adult learning. Reporting to the Director of Sport Development this role works collaboratively across departments to ensure USA Archery's education ecosystem advances athlete safety, ethical sport participation, coach effectiveness, organizational excellence, and long-term athlete development.

Essential Duties and Responsibilities:

Strategic Leadership and Program Management

- Develop and implement a comprehensive education strategy aligned with USA Archery's strategic plan and long-term athlete development objectives.
- Oversee certification pathways, recertification requirements, and continuing education opportunities for instructors, coaches and officials.
- Lead the development of sport-specific and sport-agnostic educational content for instructors, coaches, officials, athletes, and clubs to support competency development for the entire USA Archery ecosystem.
- Ensure educational standards reflect best practices in alignment with SHAPE Standards, the United States Center for Coaching Excellence and the U.S. Olympic and Paralympic Committee.
- Monitor trends and research in coaching science, pedagogy, athlete development, youth sport, sport safety and mental health.
- Establish measurable goals and key performance indicators for participation, learning outcomes, and program impact.
- Identify, research, and pursue grant opportunities from foundations, corporations, government agencies, and sport-related organizations to support coach education and broader educational initiatives.

Curriculum Development and Quality Assurance

- Direct the design, review, and revision of curricula, assessments, facilitator guides, and educational resources.
- Supervise the Instructional Designer and provide guidance on instructional design, competency-based education, and adult learning methodologies.
- Manage content within the USA Archery Education Hub and other learning management systems.
- Oversee quality assurance processes, including participant feedback, learning analytics, and competency assessments.
